

SEMINARIO DEL DEPARTAMENTO DE
FÍSICA TEÓRICA

3 de Marzo de 2010, 15 h., Módulo 15 (C-XI) aula 201

Chemical Abundances of the Nebular Gas in Galaxies

or

How to Trace Metals Far, Far Away

Ángeles Díaz

Universidad Autónoma de Madrid

Abstract: I will review the different methods in use for the derivation of chemical abundances for the nebular gas in galaxies of the Local Universe, and which are later extrapolated to more distant samples to try and derive the cosmic evolution of metallicity scaling relations.